Agenda

http://www.digitalmoneyforum.com/

The Digital Money Forum is now in its fourteenth year, and once again promises the combination of discussion and debate, learning and fun, that has earned it the reputation as the place to be for people interested in the future of retail electronic payments. It continues to be a unique event, where interaction and invention replace product announcements and "death by Powerpoint" sales pitches. This year we are again moving the agenda forwards again to look at some of the future of electronic payments and their impact on society. The Forum is a not-for-profit event that supports a variety of charities. This year we are supporting BUFFER (which provides specialist diagnostic equipment for breast cancer), Jubilee Action, Action Medical Research and The Prostate Cancer Charity.

The 2011 Digital Money Forum is sponsored by

Beyond the annual London event, the digital money debate continues on the associated Digital Money Blog at www.digitalmoneyforum.com/blog, chosen by American Banker as one of their eight Blog Watch sources and the source of the very popular Digital Money Reader "blook".
